Incident Command Checklist

- Alert head chair and backing lifeguards
- Initiate Missing Person report
- Determine who will be Incident Commander
- Determine need for additional resources
- Assign initial search groups (may require water search immediately)
- Alert Park staff and/or Dispatch (Control 1) as necessary by establishing command and giving status and requesting resources over radio (see example below)
- Establish command at head chair whenever possible
(keep reporting party at head chair or with a staff member in radio contact with IC)
- Organize resources in groups/teams by task as needed
(medical group, crowd control, search group – land & water, etc.)
- Keep track of, and continually evaluate situation status and resource status
- Maintain span of control
- Transfer command to qualified personnel face-to-face whenever possible. Give situation status, resource status and offer technical advice on lifeguard ability and how you may best be used next
- Following incident, finish paperwork, debrief as necessary, put chairs and equipment back in service

Example: “Control One and Tilden park staff, this is Lifeguard Smith at Lake Anza with emergency traffic.” (If incident requires Control One, repeat until they answer)

“We have a Code 32, I am establishing Lake Anza I.C. (Incident Command) at Chair #1. The child/adult is (give description, Age, Sex, Race, Clothing, etc.).”
